

Sun Tours

www.suntoursus.com

OCTOBER 2010

Sunshine

New Hampshire guide, John Newt, and Sun Tours tour director, Ed Dey, enjoy the fall foliage scenery. Photo courtesy of Gary & Judy Borst downloaded from the Sun Tours Photo Gallery.

KARL'S KORNER

It keeps getting harder to come up with mystery tour destinations that we can reach by bus. We found one for next summer that I think you will love. See page 9 for all (not quite all) the details.

This catalog does not repeat the tours and cruises that were in the July catalog. Call us if you need another copy of the July catalog with the details on the rest of our upcoming tours.

Speaking of upcoming tours, our pre-Christmas tours are all on a wait list basis. The Christmas and New Year's Rose Parade tours still have some availability. If you are interested, please call us right away so you won't miss out.

Happy Trails,

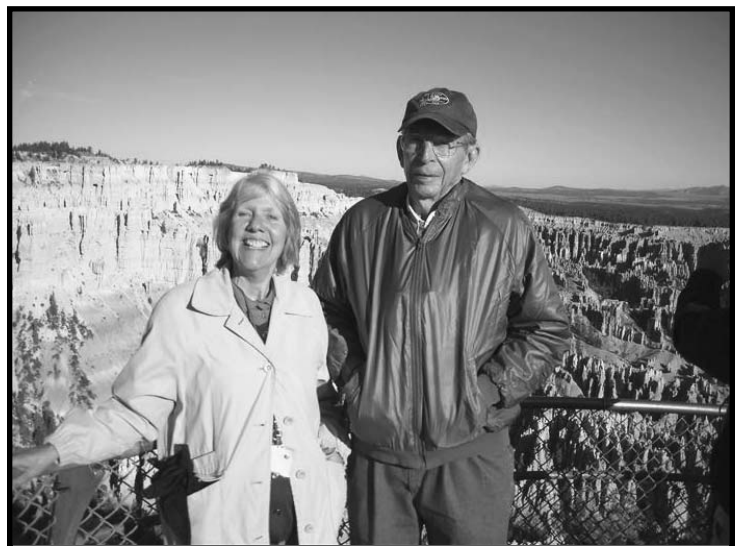

Karl

TRAVEL WITH FRIENDS

We think that Sun Tours travelers are the best in the world, friendly, considerate, and upbeat. Everybody is likely to make new friends or acquaintances on a tour. But, the trip can be even more rewarding if you bring some of your friends along with you. When you are interested in a tour, call your friends and see if they might want to go too.

If you belong to a group, organization, or club you could suggest to the activity director that the group promote a tour to its members. You don't need a large number of participants to make it a success. Those who go will have fun traveling with people that they already know.

Suzie Clements, Sun Tours' Director of Marketing, has helped many groups organize their travel and would love to arrange a trip for your group. Give Suzie a call.

Patricia Rathbone & Gordon Nelson at Bryce Canyon. Photo courtesy of Patricia Rathbone downloaded from the Sun Tours Photo Gallery.